

MATTHEW 6

The Lilies of The Valley

THE DREAM, THE VISION, THE REALITY

We all need time to step out and just make time for the quietness and to allow YHVH to revive and restore the heaviness that sometimes bring us to a bodily tiredness.

It is the evil scheme, that blinds people from the goodness and Glory of our Creator. While people can't feel the presence of our Elohim, they become like wanderers in dryness of a desert.

As I took time out, I have had a Spiritual encounter as a voice speaking to a multitude of people. As I listened the voice draw nearer and I felt a sudden release and peace. It felt as if I have been in the presence of such calmness and the smell I experienced were such a cleanliness.

As I entered into a deep realm, I could sense and feel the presence, of Yeshua HaMashiach bringing stillness to my soul.

The vision I experienced showed me a deep place of peace that YHVH is bringing His beloved ones were in a fierce battle, where the trials have been increasing, the journey has been long. I seen empty souls and so many struggling, tired and weary.

It was as if suddenly I seen a cluttered place and people are below and standing on one another . As one stretch out there hand , another come and stand on them with the attempt of survival.

This carried on for a while when I seen a mighty wind blowing all the clutter away and the place cleaned up. Then I realized that there were less people than what I have originally seen between all the clutter. Those present afterwards sang praises and wailed in His presence. YHVH is bringing many lost ones deep into the rest of His love and presence as never seen before. He is quieting the souls of these ones in His Amazing love. There is coming forth a level of refreshment, that people have never experienced before.

Many will encounter His true heart in such a deep way that it will cause their hearts to come back to life and the dead bones will rise with a song they have never sang before. YHVH will cause a passion, vision, and life to arise within their hearts again.

The message is that something greater and more significant is about to take place very soon.

I felt such deep peace that surpasses understanding. Knowing that we are survivors helps us to understand who Yeshua HaMashiach really is. Therefore we have a yearning to be in his presence. As in the vision I have seen many placing their hands upon their hearts as a sign of deep renewal.

As many began to weep they were overcome with His love. The Spirit of holiness began to cause their hearts to beat a joyful beat of life. Hopelessness fallen away. Depression completely disappeared, breaking off all sadness and melting away chains.

Every deep wound of trauma, sickness, struggle and unbelief is healed. This healing is manifesting deliverance in the very revelation of His perfection and beautiful nature. Yeshua HaMashiach our Saviour and Redeemer has a undying passionate love and his aim is for all wholeness and wellness to be restored what the evil and sin destroyed.

We are all created for the delight of our Heavenly Father, it is He in whom you are in us and who He created us to be. YHVH our Elohim is raising His words of truth and requires all His people to stand ready for the newness that is about to unfold.

It is time that those who were asleep and dead in faith be risen and every false religion system crush before Him. Every false temple be destroyed. All the lips of lies will be quite and every corruptible fall.

We standing steadfast, keeping His commandments and follow, having the pleasure of Joy and celebration to enter the well earned Kingdom through our love of Yeshua and righteousness.

The passionate love for us has been revealed by YHVH Himself by giving Yeshua HaMashiach His only begotten son, our Messiah to be Redeemed.

In this place of deep stillness, I was shown, that a awakening and a depth of healing is about to take place through every prophecy and revelation of the Scripture. There is just no words to describe this Awe time of the deepest transformation, a level that is completely indescribable. This is no partial transformation but rather a complete transformation in the awakening of the love of YHVH demonstrated through the depth unprecedented.

I have seen a place of confrontation where many orphan spirits dwell, they have been so confused in their minds, believing they have been born into a place disaster, unhappiness and no future. Suddenly a true revelation of their true identity got revealed and this was a time of long awaited breakthrough, being set free from the thick walls that surrounded them.

The message is today that we are only orphans when we allow those walls to keep us in and believe we have no Heavenly Father and nor does He have a Kingdom.

If we believe with all who YHVH created us in Him, we will experience life in fullness and truth, a love all deserve as His creation. That heart, soul and mindset of stone will be undone by His unwavering desire for your love.

Let us all sink in the stillness and peace of His love and reject the lies of the evil one that came to destroy. The great I Am is bringing you into His rest and will cause you to arise in greater strength. The enemy has come in many different forms to keep many captive.

But today we declare through the power of His Almighty Spirit, YHVH is breaking the assignments of the enemy that has kept all contained. Rise and sing the praises that YHVH is Elohim and there is none like Him. No weapon formed against us, has the power to succeed or survive.

It is time hearts be undone and every heart is filled with renewed Spirit of love allowing complete restoration. Do not rush this place of stillness, stay with Him and allow Him to breathe life into the new you.

Allow our great I Am bringing you to arise in greater strength. Today let it be declared through the power of His Spirit, and the deep work of His spirit within that all that kept you in bondage has fallen away. Allow YHVH breaking the assignments of the enemy that has kept so many contained.

I believe as we step out of this time of stillness, there is greater commissioning, that will manifest.

Many will go forth and take their place for who they are to be only if they remain strong in faith.

It is almost midnight, when I have seen the most beautiful cloud formation of the brightest crystal and I knew the meaning of "His Kingdom Come". My spirit was lifted and it felt like an ever present reality, and revelation.

May you be encouraged and uplifted, standing strong in your faith.

Be blessed and stay blessed
